Sara Ishag

GLOBAL FINANCIER | INTERNATIONAL FASHION MODEL | PHILANTHROPY & WOMEN’S LEADERSHIP ADVOCATE

Sara Ishag is a multifaceted global finance and investment professional, international fashion model, and advocate for humanitarian causes and women's leadership whose career bridges the worlds of global finance, high fashion, and philanthropy.

With over a decade of experience spanning wealth management, corporate finance, and investor relations, Sara has held positions at two of the world's leading financial institutions, JPMorgan Chase and HSBC, where she earned multiple Top Banker Awards in recognition of her achievements in banking and investment advisory. She currently serves as Director of Investor Relations at Wall Street Research, working with corporate executives, institutional investors, family offices, and private investors on capital formation, investor engagement, and strategic growth initiatives.

Beyond finance, Sara has established an international presence in fashion and entertainment. Her editorial work has appeared in prestigious publications including Vogue, Harper's Bazaar, L'Officiel, Elle, and Glamour, with appearances on more than a dozen magazine covers. She has participated in major fashion weeks across Los Angeles, New York, London, and Dubai, bringing a distinctive global perspective to her creative endeavors.

Sara's commitment to meaningful impact extends across both her professional and personal pursuits. Through her work in finance, she has supported capital-raising initiatives for mission-driven companies seeking to generate meaningful social and economic impact. Her philanthropic interests include supporting vulnerable children and orphans, expanding opportunities for underserved communities, and advancing women's leadership and economic empowerment.

An honors graduate, Sara holds an Executive MBA from the University of Southern California and a Bachelor of Science from the University of California. She has also served in advisory and board capacities with early-stage companies, drawing on her experience across finance, entrepreneurship, and relationships within international investment and business communities.

Through her involvement with the Global Women of Service Forum, Sara seeks to bring together her diverse experiences, global relationships, and commitment to service to champion women's advancement, inspire cross-industry collaboration, and contribute to initiatives that create lasting positive change.